Be Extravagant

With Your Smiles

President Peyton of N. & O. Addresses Letter to Employees On Economy.

After referring to advances in materials and supplies which enter into the operation of a railroad system and pointing out the amounts of money that would be saved to the company each year if all employees would effect a saving of even a few cents each day in the use of these materials President Peyton of the N. O. & St. L. railway says in a letter to employees: If we must be extravagant, let's squander our smiles, be free with kindness and lavish courtesies to our fellow employees and the vast army of patrons who entrust themselves and their goods to our care. Thus will our structure be built on a rock and, working harmoniously as one great organization, we will advance in the confidence of our ever increasing number of friends along the present paths of duty well preformed toward the goal of permanent and satisfying success.

The letter calls attention to some of the items entering into the operation and maintenance of the system which have advanced from 30 per cent in some cases to as much as 200 per cent in others, and admonishes the employees to be judicious and careful in the use of all materials and supplies.

"There are times," the letter continues, "when every employe of the company has a chance to save something for the company and one cent saved each day by every employe of the company would mean a saving of over $30,000 in the course of a year.
The average saving of one dime each day by every employe of the company would mean $3,000 saved in ten years, the interest on which at 5 per cent would produce a fund of $12,500 a month-- sufficient to meet a large pension role and in addition provide funds for the maintenance of an extensive accident and sick benefit association among employes."

Some of the advances mentioned in the letter are as follows: Inks, advanced from 30 to 75 per cent; pencils, advanced from 20 to 100 per cent; writing paper advanced from 40 to 100 per cent; lumber, advanced from 30 to 40 per cent; manufactured iron and steel articles advanced from 100 to 200 per cent; waste, advanced from 70 to 60 per cent.

"The company is feeling the burden of this condition," says the letter, "and it is particularly a time when loyal employes by the conservation of supplies and the avoidance of waste, may effect substantial savings."

HUMAN NATURE.

Pieces of card-board boxes cut in convenient size and tied together make a nice sink brush-- You can afterwards burn them.

Tarnished silverware can be cleaned by leaving over night in an earthen ware vessel containing a little salt and sour milk.
In the morning rub well.

By placing a light weight crumb mat under baby's chair, mother can save herself many steps.

An old glove finger on the end of the curtain rod will greatly assist with newly laundered curtains.

A small amount of common salt in a kerosine lamp will cause a brighter light, and also keep it from smooking.

Oream is a desirable fat for children of all ages, and is preferable under certain conditions to any other fat.

"An infant should never be given cake or candy, even to taste. When an infant has acquired a taste for cake or candy it will cease to enjoy the food by which its development will be best perfected."

A Reasonable Railroad Demand.

The 400,000 conductors, engineers, fireman and trainmen employed on the railroads of the country have presented new hour and wages demands following those settled by arbitration only a short time ago. These demands are for a readjustment of their wage schedules on the basis of an eight-hour day and time-and-a-half pay for work over eight hours.

What the railroads demands by way of the preliminary reply issued yesterday is an "open door" --a full and open discussion of the whole matter.

This is a wholly reasonable proposal. The trainmen are employed in what is virtually a public service. Their claims are effected with a public interest. The roads themselves are under public regulation as to their charges.
The trainmen cannot fairly claim exemption from public enlightenment and opinion in respect to the reasonableness of their charges for service which are finally paid by the public. Back of their demands is the threat of a strike which would tie up all the roads and paralyze the business of the whole country. If this is not a public issue, what is it?
The case therefore calls for the fullest presentation. Both sides should place all their cards face up on the table where the public can see them.--The World.

Plate pads make a useful gift, to place between the best china.
Cut circular pieces of white wadding and stitch the edges with floss to match the color of the china.

The drawing of muscles, the your Liniment on my knee. To
